INTRODUCTION

This report gives final figures from the 1961 Census on (a) Labour force participation rates by sex, rural (farm and non-farm) and urban, and (b) the numerical and percentage distribution of the population, 15 years of age and over, by employment status, age group and sex, for Canada and the provinces.

The 1961 Census labour force includes all persons, 15 years of age and over, who were reported as having a job of any kind, either part-time or full-time (even if they were not at work) or were reported as looking for work, during the week prior to enumeration. In urban localities the major portion of the enumeration extended over the first two weeks in June, and in rural areas over the first three weeks.

Inmates in institutions at the date of the Census, even though employed at some productive work within the institution, were not included in the labour force population. Unlike the 1951 Census, however, Indians on reserves are included, rather than treated as a special group.

The "not in the labour force" category includes, as well as inmates, all other persons, 15 years of age and over, who are not classified in the labour force as defined above. Most of the persons, other than inmates, in this category, are housewives, students, the physically or mentally disabled and persons such as retired workers and some seasonal workers who are voluntarily idle. These groups were not identified in the 1961 Census but some indication of their size may be gained from other characteristics. To aid in determining the composition of the not in the labour force group, Table 5 shows, as well as the number of inmates (including members of families in institutions), the number of married women (excluding inmates) and the number of persons with a job during the year prior to the census date (with separate data for married women) in this "not in the labour force" category, by age group.

Class of worker.—Persons in the labour force, except those looking for their first job, were classified as:

(a) Wage-earners—Persons who worked for others for wages, salary, tips or piece rates or who worked for others in non-family enterprises for payment in kind. Salesmen on commission were to be reported as wage-earners if they worked for only one company;

(b) Self-employed—Persons who operated their own business, farm or professional practice with or without paid help;

(c) Unpaid family workers—Persons who worked without regular money wages at tasks (other than home housework) which contributed to the operation of a farm or business owned and operated by some member of the household related by blood, marriage or adoption.

Persons seeking first job.—Persons looking for work who have never been employed. As can be seen from Table 5 a relatively few older males seeking work are shown in this category, due to reporting and editing errors in the 1961 Census. Since data on class of worker, occupational or industrial characteristics are not available for this latter group, they have not been changed to the experienced labour force category.

Rural, rural farm and urban.—The 1961 Census defines as urban all cities, towns and villages of 1,000 population and over, whether incorporated or unincorporated, as well as the urbanized fringes of all such centres if the agglomeration was 10,000 or over. The classification "rural farm" comprises all persons living in rural localities in dwellings situated on farms. A farm for the 1961 Census is defined as a holding of one or more acres with sales of agricultural products of $50 or more.

Agriculture and non-agriculture industries.—For persons in the labour force exclusive of those looking for their first job the name and kind of business where working or where last worked were requested. Persons were classified to agriculture or to other industries (non-agriculture) from these entries, according to the Bureau's Standard Industrial Classification Manual, Catalogue No. 12-501.

Le présent rapport donne pour le Canada et les provinces, les chiffres définitifs du recensement de 1961 sur a) les taux d'activité de la main-d'œuvre par sexe, régions rurales (agricoles et non agricoles) et urbaines, et b) la répartition numérique et procentuelle de la population âgée de 15 ans et plus suivant la situation dans l'emploi, le groupe d'âge et le sexe.

La main-d'œuvre recensée en 1961 comprend toutes les personnes âgées de 15 ans et plus, inscrites comme ayant un emploi quelconque, à temps partiel ou de plein temps (même si elles n'étaient pas au travail), ou comme ayant cherché du travail la semaine précédant le recensement. Dans les localités urbaines, le dénombrement a été fait en majeure partie durant les deux premières semaines de juin, et, dans les régions rurales, durant les trois premières.

Lors du recensement, les pensionnaires des institutions, même s'ils étaient employés à quelque travail productif dans l'institution, n'étaient pas censés faire partie de la main-d'œuvre. Contrairement au recensement de 1951, où ils faisaient partie d'un groupe spécial, les Indiens des réserves ont été comptés parmi la main-d'œuvre.

La catégorie "inactive" (ne faisant pas partie de la main-d'œuvre) comprend, en plus des pensionnaires des institutions, toutes les autres personnes âgées de 15 ans et plus qui ne se classent pas dans la main-d'œuvre suivant la définition ci-dessus. La plupart des personnes de cette catégorie (autres que les pensionnaires des institutions) sont des maîtresses de maison, des étudiants, des déficients physiques ou mentaux, des travailleurs à la retraite et certains travailleurs saisonniers délibérément inactifs. Ces groupes n'étaient pas précisés lors du recensement de 1961 mais certaines autres caractéristiques peuvent en indiquer, dans une certaine mesure, l'importance. Afin de pouvoir déterminer la composition du groupe inactif, le tableau 5 donne, aussi bien que le nombre de pensionnaires (y compris les membres de familles vivant dans des institutions), le nombre de femmes mariées (sans les pensionnaires) et le nombre de personnes qui avaient un emploi durant l'année qui a précédé la date du recensement (avec chiffres distincts pour les femmes mariées) dans cette catégorie "inactive" par groupe d'âge.

Classe de travailleur.—Les personnes faisant partie de la main-d'œuvre sauf celles qui étaient à la recherche de leur premier emploi, ont été classées:

a) Salariés—Personnes qui travaillent pour autrui contre salaire, traitement, pourboires ou rémunération à la pièce ou pour autrui dans une entreprise non familiale contre rémunération en nature. Les vendeurs à commission doivent être inscrits comme salariés s'ils ne travaillent que pour une seule compagnie;

b) Propre compte—Personnes qui exploitent leur propre entreprise, ferme ou profession avec ou sans aide payée ou rémunérée;

c) Travailleurs familiaux non rémunérés—Personnes qui travaillent sans salaire régulier en argent à des tâches (autres que le travail ménager) contribuant à l'exploitation d'une ferme ou d'une entreprise possédée et exploitée par un membre du ménage parent par le sang, le mariage ou l'adoption.

Personnes en quête de leur premier emploi.—Personnes qui n'avaient jamais été employées cherchant du travail. Le tableau 5 fait voir que relativement peu d'hommes âgés cherchant du travail sont indiqués dans cette catégorie, ce qui est attribué à des erreurs de déclaration et de contrôle lors du recensement de 1961. Étant donné que pour ce dernier groupe les chiffres sur la catégorie de travailleurs et les caractéristiques professionnelles ou industrielles ne sont pas disponibles, le groupe n'a pas été incorporé à la catégorie de main-d'œuvre expérimentée.

Rural, rural agricole, et urbain.—Le recensement de 1961 définit comme urbains les cités, villes et villages de 1,000 habitants et plus, qu'ils soient constitués ou non, de même que les périphéries urbanisées de tous ces centres si l'agglomération compte 10,000 habitants et plus. La catégorie "rurale agricole" comprend toutes personnes qui demeurent dans des localités rurales dans des logements situés dans des fermes. Une ferme, pour les besoins du recensement de 1961, est une exploitation d'une acre ou plus dont les ventes de produits agricoles sont de $50 ou plus.

Industries agricoles et industries non agricoles.—Les personnes qui faisaient partie de la main-d'œuvre, à l'exception de celles qui étaient en quête de leur premier emploi, devaient déclarer le nom et la nature de l'entreprise où elles travaillaient ou avaient tenu leur dernier emploi. D'après ces détails, les personnes furent attribuées à l'agriculture ou à d'autres industries (non agricoles), suivant le "Standard Industrial Classification Manual" du Bureau, n° de catalogue 12-501.
